

Vistas desde el Cabezo Juré.

An aerial photograph of a lush green valley. The landscape is dotted with numerous trees of varying sizes. In the lower-left and lower-right areas, there are several small, dilapidated buildings with light-colored walls and dark roofs, some with visible structural damage. A dirt path or road winds through the valley floor. The overall scene suggests a rural, possibly abandoned, mining or agricultural area.

*El Chaparral.
Antigua mina abandonada.*

El Culanderillo, yacimiento minero.

An aerial photograph of a vast, dense forest landscape. In the foreground, a calm lake is nestled among the trees. The middle ground is filled with a thick canopy of green trees, with some lighter patches visible. In the background, rolling hills and valleys are visible under a clear sky, with a few small buildings scattered across the landscape.

El pantano de Los Recueros.

Finca La Juanita.

An aerial photograph of Hacienda San Antonio, a large estate with white buildings and red-tiled roofs, surrounded by dense greenery and rolling hills. The main building complex is centrally located, with several smaller structures and a white fence in the foreground. The landscape is characterized by numerous trees and a hilly terrain that extends into the background under a clear sky.

Hacienda San Antonio.

Santuario de Ntra. Sra. De La Peña en La Puebla de Guzmán.

San Bartolome de la Torre.

Valverde del Camino.

Calañas.

La Zarza y El Perunal.

El Cerro de Andévalo.

Empresa Nacional de Celulosas.

Finca Los Millares.

Casa de La Estación Ferrocarril Minero.

San Juan del Puerto.

Trigueros.

Embalse del Sancho en Gibraltaleón.

Huelva

Punta Umbría

El Alosno.

Objetivo Canon Zoom 75-300 mm.

Antonio Blanco.

